General description:

The module entitled ‘Port infrastructures, management and maritime transport’ aims to bring the students of the Doctoral Program in Marine Sciences, Technology and Management closer to those legal aspects related to the management of maritime companies. Specifically, the study will focus on maritime-fishing companies and shipping companies for the transport of goods. For them, national and international aspects will be analyzed, as well as the resolution of international controversies. Likewise, the international tax aspects of these maritime-fishing companies and their workers will be analyzed.

Contents:

- Law of the Sea and management of fishing companies: Beatriz Huarte Melgar (9 hours).
- Shipping companies: Carlos Salinas Adelantado (5 hours).
- Tax aspects of maritime and fishing companies: Carmen Ruiz Hidalgo (3 hours).
- Tax aspects of maritime and fishing companies: Mónica Siotá Alvarez (3 hours).

Teaching methodologies:

Master Classes with active participation of the students.

Evaluation system:

- Class attendance.
- A multiple choice exam (it will consist of five questions from each of the four topics taught in the module).
